2. [Redacted] is presently in [Redacted] where he went as a member of an investment counselor's group about two years ago. Since then he has been writing an economic survey of [Redacted] and states that he is working with the Planning and Development Office of [Redacted]. He rates himself as an international trade economist, having been chief of [Redacted] program and later counsel to the Export-Import Price Division of [Redacted]. What he would like to do is work as a consultant in Washington for a period of some months beginning next summer, particularly on [Redacted] economic matters.
